

Everyone has a right to pursue business success. Did the FCC deny FM broadcast stations the right to conduct business in order to protect the AM stations? Do we only enjoy one type of television broadcast. We have the choice of network and cable, and the freedom to turn off or turn on myriad numbers of stations.

How can we legitimize the regulation or legislation of AM, FM and now XM as to program content. Our system is built on competition. Maybe something better has come along.

And I'm only referring to technology and competition in the market place. I don't even touch on 1st Amendment Rights issues!
